Program Description

The Early Childhood Education (ECE) programs at Howell and Brighton high schools provide classroom teaching exploration through actual experience working in an on-campus pre-school lab located at school district buildings and community child development programs. The curriculum covers child growth and development, health and nutritional needs, positive guidance skills, supervision, safety, entry-level aide skills and how to plan, prepare and implement daily activities and lesson plans. Students work to earn the Child Development Associate (CDA) credential.

The Teacher Prep/Teacher Cadet course focuses on developing educators for elementary to high school. The program emphasizes the teacher and learning process, the psychology of learning, the development of teaching strategies, and the evaluation of teaching effectiveness. Students invest considerable classroom time on group projects and then practice what they have learned in schools as teacher aides, tutors, and presenters.
